Millian, bridge commissioner, and by leave of Court files his report herein from which the Court finds: That said Commissioner proceed to the bridge site, under authority of a former order of this Court, and carefully viewed the situation, took note of the condition and situation of things in general, measured the grounds, old bridges &c, and considered the advisability and probable cost of rebuilding the old bridge, and erecting a new bridge: that he concluded that the best and cheapest plan would be to build a new bridge, using as much of the material of the old bridge as is fit for use, or rather to rebuild the old bridge, supplying all decayed, worn and defective parts with new material, and has reported plan and specifications for rebuilding the bridge this way and estimates the cost thereof at $1000. And then comes the Missouri Bridge and Iron Co. and after seeing and considering said report, and having seen and examined the said bridge in its present condition proposes to erect a new bridge according to said plan and specifications, with the exception of furnishing any lumber or putting in any dirt fills as specified, at the price and sum of $1050. and guarantee the same to be as good as a bridge of all new material. Whereupon it is ordered by the Court that the report of said bridge commissioner be and is hereby approved. And it is further ordered by the Court that said Commissioner be and he is hereby authorized to enter into contract with said Missouri Bridge & Iron Co. to rebuild said bridge according to plan and specifications and take a good and sufficient bond for the full performance of its contract, And it is further ordered by the Court that said Commissioner contract for delivering the lumber at the bridge site, provided he can secure the same at a reasonable price, at as early a date as possible, and have said bridge completed as soon as possible and report his proceedings herein to the next term of this Court.
